

AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business)

Re-Accreditation Site Visit Peer Review Team:

Dr. Barron Harvey Dean, School of Business, Howard University

Education:

Bachelor's degree, accounting, University of Nebraska at Lincoln

Master's degree, business, accounting, University of Nebraska at Lincoln

Ph.D., organizational behavior, minor in accounting, Univ. of Nebraska at Lincoln

2014 - Howard University's School of Business, maintained their AACSB Accreditation.

1994 - Dr. Barron Harvey was appointed as Interim Dean and Dean in 1998

1976 – Howard University becomes first business school in the nation's capital to become AACSB accredited

Dr. Chris Puto, Professor, Opus College of Business, University of St. Thomas-Minnesota

Education:

B.S., economics, Spring Hill College

M.B.A., University of Miami

Ph.D., marketing, Duke University

2012 – Christopher Puto steps down as Dean but will return to the faculty after a sabbatical.

2010 - St. Thomas becomes the first private university in Minnesota to receive accreditation by AACSB.

2005 - Dean Christopher Puto elected to the board of directors of the AACSB.

2002 - Christopher Puto named dean of the College of Business. He comes from Georgetown University's McDonough School of Business after having served four years as Dean.

Dr. Miles Davis, Dean, Byrd School of Business, Shenandoah University

Education:

Bachelor's degree, communications, Duquesne University

Master's degree, human resource development, Bowie State University

Ph.D., organization behavior and management, George Washington University

2012 - Reaccreditation was earned with flying colors.

2012 - Dr. Miles K. Davis was named the new dean of Shenandoah University's Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business.

2007 - Shenandoah University's Harry F. Byrd, Jr. School of Business received AACSB accreditation.

